~ Full Gospel Assemblies 2017 - Reaching Out In Missions ~

As the Full Gospel Assemblies purposes to give Christ to the world, may we do so with the declaration of Psalm 96 as the banner over every mission. In the same manner as the Psalmist challenges.....Sing a new to the Lord, declare his glory among the nations, his marvelous works among all the peoples. Let us be challenged in our prayer, our participation, and in our support for the upcoming missions to take Christ to the nations. All FG clergy, congregations and ministries of the church are encouraged to join in with the 2017 Fellowship wide Missions objectives below. Your prayer participation will allow for the greatest impact and success on these new fields of harvest for the Lord. Pastor Simeon Strauser, Chairman

Growing Timothys

By Pastor Juan Feliciano

Godlessness

It should come as no surprise to us in leadership that we are living in difficult times (2Timothy 3). In a recent visit to our local Christian bookstore my wife and I were approached by a sister who we know quite well because of her longevity of working at this business. After leading us in the direction of what we were looking for she began to speak to us of her concerns for the church fellowship in that it has been affected by what is currently taking place in our nation politically and morally. I could sense her concern stemmed from that which she has not seen the likes of anytime in the past and was not quite sure as to how this could be handled. In reading 2Timothy chapter 3 there are some key words that depict precisely what is taking place in America today and has the potential to affect the church body as well if we are not vigilant. These terms used in 2Timothy are: proud, arrogant, abusive, ungrateful, unappeasable, slanderous, brutal, reckless, and swollen with conceit and without self-control. This is pretty much our daily bread when we watch the news every evening unfortunately. Our concern in leadership is that these negative and sinful ways can have an appearance of godliness (vs. 5) although as of late, I have witnessed its full blatant force. We cannot be ignorant of the fact that Satan will try to creep in disguised as an angel of light. Our Timothy's must be taught in light of scripture to discern the times we are living in, a concern in Paul's time and more so in our era as the return of our Lord is drawing ever so closer. The admonition we are given in verse 5 is to avoid such people and rightfully so for we are quite aware that those who have fallen in like patterns of lifestyle are difficult to persuade. We know our prayers are powerful to the bringing down of strongholds and that they can and will cause change, but as to trying to bring about change through a one on one contact it is best to avoid as we have been admonished. Keeping our eyes fixed on God and seeking the things above will have us walking over the current tendencies of our society today.

Full Gospel Assemblies Develops Offices of Spanish Ministry Representation

FGA is honored to announce that the creation of offices for Spanish Ministry representation has been in progress since the beginning of the year. The goal for 2017 will be to have FG representation lead dialogue and subsequent ministry into communities where Spanish is the first language with the purpose of expanding FGA church development and ministry training throughout the USA and abroad. The development coincides with this year's planned missions to Mexico and Puerto Rico.

For the eastern United States, Pastors Juan and Mayra Feliciano have been appointed as representatives. Pastors Juan and Myra lead Calvary's Love Church, a multi-cultural, bilingual congregation in Springfield MA.

Meanwhile, Pastors Regi and Narcedalia Licht are representing the western United States. Pastors Regi and Narcedalia pastor the Bluffview Center of Hope in Prairie du Sac Wisconsin, and are now leading the FGA expansion of ministry development into the country of Mexico.

Those interested in the joining in, with the FG fellowship-wide outreach to Spanish-speaking people groups both in the United States and worldwide, are welcome to contact the central office for more information on developing missions and service opportunities for the Spanish Ministry expansion efforts.
